Operational Research Society of Singapore

5 June 2026

Dear _____,

The Asia Pacific Operational Research Societies (APORS) Youth Forum 2026 will be held in Singapore on 19-20 November 2026. The forum is Jointly Organized by Association of Asia-Pacific Operational Research Societies and Operational Research Society of Singapore and School of Physical & Mathematical Sciences, Nanyang Technological University.

The APORS Youth Forum brings together young researchers from across the Asia-Pacific region, giving them the opportunity to connect with peers and established operational research scholars and to present their ongoing work to a wider audience. Young researchers in operational research, including emerging faculty, postdoctoral fellows and PhD students, are warmly invited to present their ongoing or recently completed research at the forum.

During the forum, APORS will present the 2026 APORS Young Researcher Best Paper Awards in operations research theory, applications, and collaborative research across APORS member societies.

Date: 19-20 November 2026

Venue: Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Registration fee:

	Early Bird Registration (before 1 Oct 2026)	Standard Registration (1 Oct 2026 and afterwards)
Ordinary	SGD 500	SGD 600
